

Opioid Abatement Authority Considers Award of $23 million in Grants to 76 Cities and Counties

June 12, 2023 – On Friday June 9, 2023, a committee of the Virginia Opioid Abatement Authority (OAA) voted to recommend more than $23 million in awards to 76 Virginia cities and counties. The vote represents the first major allocation of awards from the OAA since Virginia received its first set of national settlement payments from manufacturers and distributors of prescription opioids last year. The payments from the various settling companies are expected to continue for at least 16 more years and will exceed $1 billion in total funding.

Senator Todd Pillion, Chairman of the OAA, noted the Authority's board has moved quickly to make awards. "This money is needed urgently across the state to save lives," he said. "The OAA carefully reviewed every application to make sure 100% of these funds are going to combat the addiction crisis that is stealing lives across Virginia."

Dr. Sarah Thomason, a clinical pharmacist who chairs the OAA's Grants Committee, said that Virginia is one of the first states to develop grant criteria for localities and to make awards based on those criteria. "It is truly exciting to see these funds being invested at the community level in programs that are evidence-based and focused on saving lives," she said. "Many of our cities and counties have developed projects ready for initiation and we expect grants from the OAA will allow those projects to start making a difference quickly."

The proposed awards include grants to thirteen individual cities or counties and 26 grants to partnerships in which multiple cities and/or counties have committed to a regional approach. Projects vary based on the identified needs of each community, and range from expansion of medication-assisted treatment programs, to recovery housing, to in-patient services. A summary of the proposed projects is attached.

In 2022 Attorney General Jason Miyares announced the first round of finalized settlements worth more than $500 million for the Commonwealth spread over the course of eighteen years, and predicted the total will increase to more than $1 billion as additional settlements are finalized.

The OAA was established by the General Assembly in 2021 to oversee the distribution of 55% of Virginia's total settlement funds. Of the remainder, 30% is distributed directly to cities and counties, and the remaining 15% to the commonwealth. The use of funds is restricted by court orders and state statute, with the restrictions aiming for the funds to be used for opioid abatement efforts.

The full Board of Directors of the OAA will conduct a public meeting on June 23 to consider public comments before voting on the recommended grant awards. Information regarding the June 23 meeting can be found at www.voaa.us
